

SOLUTIONS FOR INSURANCE COMPANIES

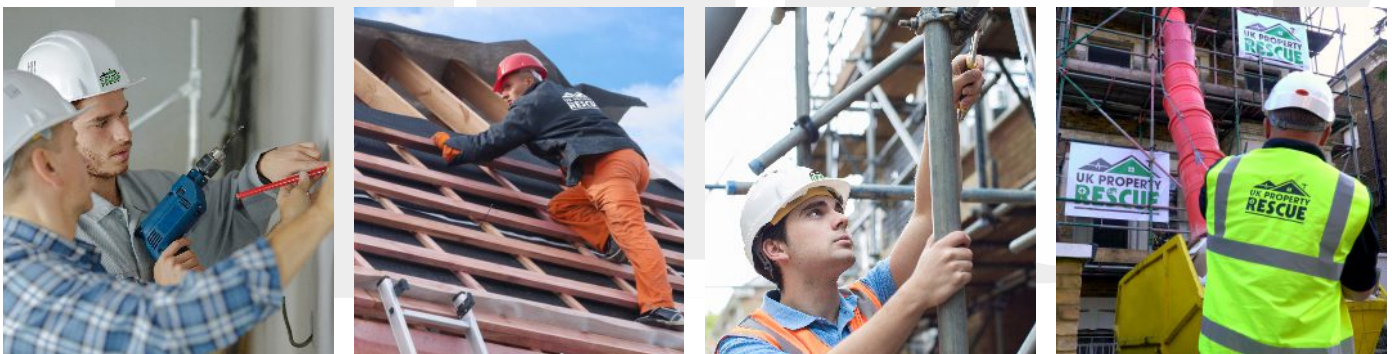

What are the issues for Insurance Companies?

Disasters happen! Fire, flood, earthquakes, tornados, landslides, etc... And when they happen the damage caused to properties can be considerable, if not catastrophic.

What are the considerations for Insurance Companies in dealing with Disaster Recovery?

The main considerations are the cost of the recovery and the time it will take to restore the property to its original state. Often the property owners need accommodation for many months, or even years, until the work is completed and they can return to their home. Again, these costs must be met by the insurers in the meantime.

What services do UK Property Rescue provide?

UK Property Rescue have assembled a professional, dedicated and trusted team of tradesmen to deal with the specific challenges presented by "Disaster Recovery", providing a simple and unified solution to our Insurance Company clients. Whether general building and remedial works, site clearances, electrical or gas issues, decontamination remedies, and anything in between, we provide a full-service solution under one roof. This unified solution means you can resolve the issues with one single point of contact.

How do we interact with Insurance Companies in providing these solutions?

Rather than break every component down to separate suppliers and tenders, we are confident that UK Property Rescue can tender for the recovery work in its entirety, and come in considerably under the total price of separate suppliers covering individual components of the work. Furthermore, if we are successful with our tender, then our unified team can ensure that we project manage and schedule the works with maximum efficiency, expediting the time to complete the work and re-house the owners, saving both time and money in the process.

Please see our website for specific Case Studies undertaken for Insurance Companies...

CLIENT TESTIMONIALS

The Empty Homes Network | Adam Cliff (Policy Lead & Secretary)

In my role as Policy Lead and Secretary of The Empty Homes Network, I would highly recommend the services of UK Property Rescue to any Local Authority members looking to deal with the diverse range of problem properties under their remit. Their specialist skillset expedites solutions to the specific problems that our members face every day within their case loads.

Rushcliffe Borough Council | Environmental Health Team

The Environmental Health Team at Rushcliffe Borough Council has built a strong and successful working relationship with UK Property Rescue over the last 12 months. We have worked together on a range of difficult properties and with vulnerable clients, achieving successful and positive outcomes in each case. UK Property Rescue have been able to provide swift and high-quality bespoke solutions, which have been achieved through co-operation, trust, and a high level of understanding by UK Property Rescue of the complex issues involved.

